

To remain and to progress, because of not wanting to let go, we could risk everything in protest...

Disproportionately agree to become stronger...

In the world there's no good or bad, justice or evil, right or wrong, nor is there class differences, success or failure.

Every life from start for a reason.

But how do we decide whether the reason is great or small?

Just like coal and diamond, they are by nature of the same material.

But to many, they have different values.

Because of that, their values are like heaven and earth.

But for someone that's about to die in the desert,

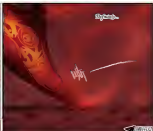

What difference is there between diamond or coal?

Then are things that some are desperately want, but there are those who don't care.

There are things that other don't care but I do.

Even...

more than my life!

Definitely...

CANNOT LET GO!

WHAT DOES
TWO IDIOTS LIKE
YOU KNOW ABOUT FRIENDSHIP!

NOT ONLY
ARE YOU
EQUALLY STUPID.

BUT ALSO

LET ME
TAKE YOU TO WHERE

are you really dead?

THE STILL-BINDER MEANS ONLY ONE PERSON

*Listen carefully

*You are not allowed

What is so fun about being...

And what is so scary about dying...

I clearly already seen through life and death...

But why right at this moment,

Can't I let go

This beautiful life of mine...

Ended because of a man...

Such tragedy...

Always...

I am happy that you can continue to live...

Sorry, for not being able to keep the promise...

If there is a next life...

Let's be together once again and transcend this life...
